

Chapter 1. Being interviewed: the psychiatric assessment as a co-constructed relationship

Section 1: The basics

Chapter 2. Information gathering

Chapter 3. Becoming a skilled interviewer

Section 2: The diagnostic psychiatric interview

Chapter 4. Preparing for the interview

Chapter 5. The diagnostic interview

Chapter 6. The mental state examination

Chapter 7. Bringing it all together

Chapter 8. Recording and communicating your assessment to others

Section 3: Specific presentations

Chapter 9. Depression

Chapter 10. The suicidal person

Chapter 11. Mania

Chapter 12. Psychosis

Chapter 13. Anxiety

Chapter 14. Obsessive–compulsive symptoms

Chapter 15. Post-traumatic stress disorder

Chapter 16. Confusion part 1: delirium

Chapter 17. Confusion part 2: dementia

Chapter 18. Substance use and addiction behaviours

Chapter 19. The person with feeding and eating disorders

Chapter 20. Borderline personality disorder

Chapter 21. Pregnancy and the postnatal period

Chapter 22. The unresponsive person

Chapter 23. Dealing with a potentially violent person

Chapter 24. Neurodevelopmental disorders

Section 4: Specific places

Chapter 25. Assessments in the accident and emergency department

Chapter 26. Assessments in the home

Chapter 27. Assessments in the general hospital (or CL unplugged)

Section 5: Specific groups

Chapter 28. The assessment of children and adolescents

Chapter 29. Assessment of older people

Chapter 30. Assessment of people with intellectual disabilities

Chapter 31. Assessment of people from different ethnic, cultural, and linguistic backgrounds

Section 6: In-depth topics

Chapter 32. Personality difficulties

Chapter 33. The extended cognitive assessment

Chapter 34. Assessment of mental capacity

Chapter 35. Risk and risk assessment

Chapter 36. Assessment of physical health

Chapter 37. Changed behaviours in people with dementia

Chapter 38. Difficult encounters

Section 7: Approaching examinations

Chapter 39. Examination skills

Appendices

Appendix 1. History-taking checklist

Appendix 2. Mental state examination checklist

Appendix 3. Suicide assessment checklist

Appendix 4. Risk review checklist

Appendix 5. Categorical classification of personality disorders

Appendix 6. NEAMI health prompt

Appendix 7. Montreal Cognitive Assessment (MoCA)

Publishing history

Index